About the product

Galvanized steel structure, powder coated.

Galvanized steel structure, powder paint coated. The external sheathing, depending on the type, consists of an opaque membrane (impermeable to light) with a weight of 850 g/m² fire class B-s2 - d0 reaction to fire as well as a highly transparent membrane with a thickness of 0.5 mm. Gravity ventilation, moisture removal system, one entrance. Attached steel feet prepared for ballast. The dome's spherical shaped frame provides excellent wind resistance.

Benefits for Investors

Igloos offer unlimited possibilities

- ▶ Allows additional business in the outdoor area of restaurants - also outside the summer season
- ▶ Receiving customers in safe conditions
- ▶ Increasing the number of tables located outside the restaurant – inside the Igloos
- ▶ An additional attraction for drawing potential customers is the Igloos modern design and the possibility of installing LED strips
- ▶ The possibility of using a roof, terrace or other open space to create a winter garden available to guests regardless of the season.
- ▶ Placing Polidomes spherical tents on the roof of a building can be a great idea to enhance the landscape value of the premises
- ▶ Possibility of any arrangement of the dome's interior (e.g. traditional style: square/round tables, chairs, modern style: bean bags for sitting/lying)
